Dr. Sai — Personal Brand & Content Growth Framework

Source analysed: "How to Make $1,000,000 from Social Media in 12 Months" — Kallaway on Open Residency (Oct 2026, 2h04m). Full transcript read. Adapted for: Dr. Sai — CEO-philosopher brand for the ambitious Burmese-speaking business reader. Break the Frame.

Part 1 — The 12 core lessons from the video

#	Lesson	What it means in one line
1	Pick your game first	Content has split into separate games: mainstream fame, category fandom/brand deals, selling products, and building authority. Each needs a different strategy. Decide your end goal, then work backwards.
2	The Format Pyramid	4 levels, bottom to top: Facts → Explanation → Application → Stories. As a niche gets crowded, a "red line" rises from the bottom and kills the lower levels.
3	Skip facts, lead with application	Lists and rankings are "junk food" that AI and copycats can make. In a crowded niche, start at Explanation + Application, then build up to Stories.
4	Ideas are 80–95% of the result	Idea = Topic + Angle. In every niche a few topic buckets always win, because viewers share the same beliefs about what their problems are.
5	The DCT method	Data picks the topic. Creativity picks the angle. Transposition: borrow a format from a different niche when your niche's formats are saturated.
6	Go more advanced on purpose	Rich, high-ticket buyers are at level 4–6 out of 10. Skip the beginner material. You get fewer views and a much more valuable audience. Kallaway deliberately dropped from ~400K to ~10K views a video.
7	Proof is the pudding	Proof lowers the buyer's risk. Show your numbers, look for "one-of-one" proof nobody else can claim, and collect proof across several business models. Stop hiding what you've built.
8	Trust Ladder (no proof yet?)	From most to least trust: warm endorsement → proof of result → demonstrated ability. Without proof, aim for 2 "light-bulb moments" per video: say something that sounds non-obvious until you hear it, then obvious. Copied ideas build zero trust.
9	Story = sequenced emotion	A first-person "problem → action → result" story lets viewers see themselves in you. Stories are the hardest format to copy.

#	Lesson	What it means in one line
10	Rented vs owned audience	Followers are rented and can be taken away. Email lists and communities are owned. Move people from rented to owned as fast as you can. Kallaway gets 10–15K emails a month from one short video a day.
11	Aligned lead magnet funnel	Make a pain point vivid in the video, then offer the fix (the "band-aid"). Keep the video, lead magnet, low-ticket offer and high-ticket offer all on that same pain point. Make the magnet short: they want the answer, not 10 more pages.
12	Skill before content	Content amplifies a skill you already have. Without real expertise you have no non-obvious takes.

Bonus systems from the live demo

- Outlier score: a video's views divided by that channel's rolling 3-month average. Study outliers, not raw views. Small channels with big outliers prove the idea worked.
- Audience Bullseye (5 rings): ICP (ideal customer) → close-in → adjacent → broad → too broad (never go to the outer ring; a viral video there brings followers who never buy and confuses the algorithm).
- 3-2-1 content mix: 1 broad bucket, 2 narrow buckets, 1 "chaos agent" wild-card bet. In practice that's about 2 broad + 4 narrow + 1 chaos video a week.
- Positioning wheel: map competitors on topic selection, substance depth, unique stories, visual format, etc., then look for gaps nobody covers.
- Format matrix: story structure (case study, Q&A, problem→solution) × visual layout. Empty cells are white space.
- Metrics that matter: views, followers gained and conversions. Everything else is "icing, not cake."
- Debug order when a video flops: Is the topic validated? → Is the angle non-obvious? → Is the hook good? → Then editing.
- Speed to value: signal early that value is coming, deliver it quickly, and cut the fluff from the middle.
- 80% vs 100%: ship at 80% while you're getting your reps in. Once your skill is high, polish the potential "banger," because one video can bring 99% of the results.
- Modern stack: short form + long form, each feeding email. Reels is the strongest short-form platform right now.
- Platforms are cracking down on AI-avatar and copied content. Human, first-person expertise is the safe bet.

Part 2 — The Dr. Sai framework (applied)

2.1 Your game: Authority → Owned list → High-ticket

Dr. Sai plays the authority game, not the view-maxing game. Your mission (education that unlocks potential) and your "CEO-philosopher" position point to:

- Goal: trust from founders and operators, which turns into email/Telegram subscribers, then programs, advisory and ventures.
- North-star metric: owned subscribers and conversions, not views.
- Permission to stay small: 5–25K views a video from the right Burmese business readers beats 500K from random viewers. This matches the "calm authority, no hype" spine.

> Brand guardrail: the video's "$1M in 12 months" framing is hype. Take the system, not the language. Dr. Sai never sells urgency.

2.2 Your Format Pyramid (built from your four pillars)

Level	Dr. Sai version	Use?
1. Facts	"5 Sun Tzu quotes for business"	❌ Skip. Saturated, and AI can do it.
2. Explanation	"What Anatta (non-self) really means for a founder's ego"	✅ Base layer (about 40%)
3. Application	"I applied Dependent Origination to diagnose why my team missed targets. Here's the map." / "If I had to build a Myanmar education startup from zero today..."	✅ Main lever (about 40%)
4. Stories	First-person: a hard call you made as CEO, a failure, a frame you broke in your own life or parenting	✅ Signature (about 20%)

Your one-of-one moat: the crossing of wisdom and business. Anyone can explain Sun Tzu. Only you can show it working inside a real company you run. Make every Application video a crossing (Buddhist/Taoist idea × real business decision).

2.3 Topic buckets (find winners with data, then add your angle)

Start with these 6 candidate buckets (mapped to your messaging pillars) and let the data rank them after 4–6 weeks:

1. Leadership & the inner game: ego, decisions, loneliness of the CEO
2. Strategy & empire-building: leverage, offers, systems, positioning (Sun Tzu)

3. Money & wealth frames: inherited beliefs about money in Burmese culture
4. Wisdom for real work: equanimity under pressure, impermanence and change
5. Learning & mastery: how adults actually learn, rethinking education
6. Resilience & the self: identity, parenting, starting over

The angle test (run before every script): What frame does this break? What do I believe here that most Burmese business people don't? If you can't answer in one line, skip the topic.

2.4 The "advanced dial"

Pitch most content at level 4–6 out of 10, for people who already run something. It is fine if a beginner feels slightly lost. That filters for your ideal customer (ICP).

2.5 Proof stack: stop hiding it

List every proof point and work them in quietly ("subtle flexing" in the video's words; for you, earned, not claimed):

☐ Doctorate (and its field)
☐ Companies built/run: number, countries, team size, revenue range if comfortable
☐ Students/people taught or impacted
☐ Any one-of-one claim (first in Myanmar to..., only person who...)
☐ Results of people you've coached or advised (with permission)

Rule: state proof as context inside a story, never as a boast. "When we were 3 people in one room in Yangon..." tells the viewer more than "I'm a CEO."

2.6 Trust without proof: the light-bulb rule

Each video should contain 2 light-bulb moments: non-obvious until said, obvious after. This is exactly what "Break the Frame" is. Write them down before scripting.

2.7 Audience Bullseye for Dr. Sai

1. 🎯 ICP: Burmese founders/operators (25–45) running a team or business, inside Myanmar or abroad, who want depth, not motivation
2. Ring 2: Burmese professionals and managers aiming to lead or start something
3. Ring 3: Ambitious Burmese learners interested in self-mastery and strategy
4. Ring 4 (broad): Anyone interested in Buddhist wisdom applied to life
5. ❌ Too broad: generic motivation, celebrity gossip, news commentary. Never go here.

2.8 Weekly 3-2-1 content calendar (7 short videos + 1 long)

Day	Bucket	Ring	Format
Mon	Narrow A: Strategy (Sun Tzu × business)	1–2	Application: "how I used X"
Tue	Broad: Wisdom for real life	4	Explanation: one concept, one frame broken
Wed	Narrow B: Leadership inner game	1–2	Story: first-person CEO moment
Thu	Narrow A	1–2	Application: hypothetical/case ("If I were you...")
Fri	Broad	3–4	Explanation
Sat	Narrow B	1–2	Q&A / breakdown of a reader's problem
Sun	🎲 Chaos agent	any 1–4	Bold bet: new format, transposed from another niche
+ 1	Long-form YouTube (weekly)	1–3	Deep version of the week's best-performing short

Transposition ideas for chaos-agent slots: whiteboard/ink "frame drawing" top-down shot; walking talk in a temple or office; "CEO journal" reading; split-screen "inherited frame vs new frame."

2.9 Script template (short-form, 45–75 seconds)

> 1. HOOK (1 line, ≤ 2 sec): tension, a turn, a number, or a direct "you"
> (one sentence only: multi-sentence hooks underperformed in the video's data)
> 2. THE INHERITED FRAME: what most people believe
> 3. THE BREAK: light-bulb moment #1 (the non-obvious truth)
> 4. PROOF/APPLICATION: how it played out in a real company or your life
> 5. LIGHT-BULB #2: the deeper principle (Buddhist / Taoist / strategy)
> 6. CTA aligned to the pain: "Comment FRAME and I'll send you the 1-page ___"
> 7. TATTOO LINE: one short, true sentence to close

2.10 Hook rules to test (hypotheses, not laws)

Patterns that won in Kallaway's data. Test them on your own channel before adopting:

- ✅ Transformation numbers ("from 3 people to 300", "7 years → 7 minutes") beat credential numbers ("I've done 13 companies")
- ✅ Named frameworks/laws ("The 3-Frame Rule") win. Naming the mechanism works.
- ✅ Make the viewer the subject ("you"), not yourself
- ✅ Declarative, absolute language beats hedging

- ✅ Optimism beats fear/mistake framing ("this will ruin you")
- ❌ "If you..." conditional hooks underperformed for him
- ❌ Multi-sentence hooks

Process: write the hook from your own head first → check against data → tweak. Data-only hooks sound like clones.

2.11 Funnel: rented → owned

> Short video (pain made vivid)
> → comment keyword (ManyChat / Telegram bot)
> → lead magnet ON THE SAME PAIN (1-page, short, Burmese)
> → email/Telegram list: keep giving value, don't spam
> → low-ticket (workshop/guide on same pain)
> → high-ticket (program / advisory / mastermind)

- One lead magnet per topic bucket (6 total to start), e.g. "The 1-Page Sun Tzu Positioning Map for Founders", "The Equanimity Protocol for Hard CEO Decisions".
- Name it descriptively with power words. Make it short: the answer, not a textbook.
- Priority #1 for the next 90 days: owned list size.

2.12 Analytics routine (every 2 weeks)

1. Export your video data (views, followers gained, comments/keyword conversions).
2. Calculate the outlier score (views ÷ your last-3-month average).
3. Ask Claude: "Rank my topic buckets, hooks and formats by outlier score. What should I do more of, stop, and test next batch? Build it as dynamic HTML."
4. Monthly: run the same analysis on 5–10 top creators in adjacent niches (Burmese business/self-development + global CEO-philosopher voices). Watch their outliers and ask: "Do I have a different take?" Yes → make it. No → skip. Copy the topic, never the content.
5. Watch for overused topics: when a winning topic starts dropping, rotate it out.

Part 3 — 90-day action plan

Days 1–14: Foundation

☐ Write your end goal and offer (what high-ticket thing does the content lead to?)

☐ Fill in the proof stack (2.5)

☐ Write down your ICP "Frankenstein" profile: one specific person, their dream outcome, their 5 biggest pain points

☐ Build a watch list of 10 creators; pull their top outliers from the last 3 months

☐ Draft 3 lead magnets for the top 3 buckets

☐ Set up a comment-keyword → email/Telegram automation

Days 15–60: Volume and data

☐ Post 1 short a day using the 3-2-1 calendar (ship at 80%)

☐ 1 long-form a week, built from the best short

☐ Every video: 2 light-bulb moments + an aligned CTA + a tattoo line

☐ Biweekly outlier review (2.12)

Days 61–90: Narrow and convert

☐ Cut the bottom 2 topic buckets; double down on the top 2

☐ Turn the dial more advanced; accept fewer views

☐ Launch the first low-ticket offer to the list, on the #1 pain point

☐ Polish 1 potential "banger" a week to 100%

Scoreboard (track only these): followers gained · keyword conversions/subscribers · leads/sales. Views only as context.

Part 4 — What to adapt, not copy

- Keep: the pyramid, the proof and trust logic, owned distribution, 3-2-1 + bullseye, data-picks-topic / you-pick-angle.
- Translate: "subtle flexing" becomes earned context inside stories; "aggravate the pain point" becomes make the frame visible, then break it (calm, never fear-selling).
- Ignore: "$1M in 12 months" urgency, view-maxing, AI avatars. Also be aware the episode promotes Kallaway's own tool (Sandcastles). The method works with any data export plus Claude.

> The whole video in one Dr. Sai line: Don't chase more eyes. Earn deeper trust, and keep it close.

Dr. Sai — Content Playbook: 4 Pillars × Short & Long Form

Inputs combined:

1. The Personal Brand Architect (your uploaded PDF, 15 slides): "Optimizing for Trust Over Virality"
2. Alex Hormozi's content strategy (synthesized from $100M Leads, $100M Offers and his public content model)
3. Kallaway's Format Pyramid & funnel (see `Dr_Sai_Personal_Brand_Content_Framework.md`)
4. Dr. Sai's brand DNA, voice, and his own proven posts (Iceberg of Will, Perception Ocean, the "၁၈ ရှင်...ပြီးမှ" parenting rules)

Pillars: ① Parenting ② Personal Development ③ CEO Skills ④ Business Scaling

> Every `[FILL: ...]` is a spot for a real story, number or name only Dr. Sai can supply. Never invent proof. Per the PDF, burned trust is permanent.

PART 1 — What the PDF teaches (The Personal Brand Architect)

Slide	Framework	Key idea	Dr. Sai application
02	Trust over Virality	Virality = wide, vanilla, unqualified viewers. Trust = deep, specific problem-solving that brings qualified buyers.	Optimize for founders and parents who want a roadmap, not entertainment.
03	Reverse-engineer the roadmap	Desired outcome → the reputation needed → daily actions → knowledge needed today.	Outcome: the most trusted wisdom-and-business educator in Burmese. Reputation: "the CEO who thinks like a philosopher."
04	Student vs Expert lane	Student = learning in public (never posture). Expert = teaching in public from a proven track record.	Expert lane. 13 businesses, 300+ staff, thousands of students. Teach from scars and results.
05	3 Levers of Differentiation	Contrarian belief (80%) + Delivery (10%) + Wrapping paper: hooks, titles, thumbnails (10%).	Your contrarian beliefs (Part 3) are the engine. Hooks and thumbnails only package them.
06	Contrarian ≠ Controversial	Contrarian = against the dominant belief because it's true to you. Controversial = a position taken to trigger a reaction.	Fits "calm authority, no bait." Never take a position just for engagement.

Slide	Framework	Key idea	Dr. Sai application
07	Contrarian Belief Formula	"I believe [audience] who want [desire] should [contrarian belief], NOT [common belief]." Repeat it until you own the concept (Apple = design).	One statement per pillar (Part 3).
08	Content Success Formula	(Pain + Unique Solution) = The Gift × Contextual Credibility × Proven Wrapper	Use contextual proof ("I led 300+ people through ___"), never generic ("I have X years' experience").
09	Content Diet 75/20/5	75% deep content (the steak) · 20% niche-wide (the sides) · 5% personal (the dessert)	Deep = frameworks. Niche-wide = broader topics for ambitious Burmese readers. Personal = family, Buddhism practice, daily life.
10	4 C's of Hooking	Call-out → Credibility → Compass (the roadmap) → Core learning inside 60 seconds	Opening template for every video (Part 2).
11	Eye of Sauron	One primary platform gets all the innovation. Secondary platforms run in maintenance (repurposed) mode.	Primary: Facebook (where Burmese readers live). Pillar library: YouTube. Orbit: TikTok/IG.
12	Expand → Contract	Phase 1: high volume to collect data. Phase 2: cut volume and raise production on the proven format.	Months 1–2: expand. Month 3+: contract.
13	70/20/10 Innovation	70% proven · 20% iterations · 10% wild swings	Your proven 70% already exists: Iceberg, Perception Ocean, "ဘခရင်...ပြီးမှ".
14	Waterfall Repurposing	Pillar long-form → mine "golden moments" (aha insights that need no context) → re-wrap natively per platform	One long video a week becomes about 10 pieces (Part 5).
15	The System	Contrarian statement → 75/20/5 + 70/20/10 → deep trust (the Credibility Bank) → high-ticket buyers	"Optimize for the customer you want, not the competitor you fear."

PART 2 — Hormozi's content strategy (the 10 principles that matter for Dr. Sai)

1. "Give away the secrets, sell the implementation." Teach the full framework for free. People pay for help applying it (programs, advisory, Hysan). Generosity builds trust faster than holding back.

2. Content is a lead magnet. Every piece should solve one narrow problem completely, so the viewer thinks "if the free stuff is this good...".
3. Pillar → clips machine. Hormozi records one long-form "pillar" (talk, workshop or podcast) and his team cuts it into dozens of shorts. One recording day feeds a week or more. (Matches the PDF's Waterfall.)
4. Hook → Retain → Reward. The hook earns the next 3 seconds. Retention comes from open loops and a clear roadmap. The reward is a real insight delivered. If the reward is weak, the brand loses trust.
5. Name your frameworks. "Value Equation", "Grand Slam Offer", "Core Four". A named mechanism is memorable, ownable and shareable. Dr. Sai already does this ("Perception Ocean"), so do it on purpose for every pillar.
6. Quotable one-liners ("Hormozi-isms"). Short, sticky lines people screenshot. The Dr. Sai equivalent is the tattoo line.
7. Proof through specifics. He uses exact numbers, real stories and failures. Specific sounds true; vague sounds like marketing.
8. Volume and consistency beat perfection early. "The Rule of 100": do 100 reps of a thing before you judge it. Quality comes from volume plus feedback.
9. Make content for one person. Picture one specific reader (a founder, a parent) and talk only to them.
10. The Value Equation applied to content: Value = (Dream Outcome × Perceived Likelihood) ÷ (Time Delay × Effort). Show a big outcome, make it believable with proof, and make the first step fast and easy ("do this one thing tonight").

Where Dr. Sai differs from Hormozi (keep the brand): Hormozi is loud, fast and gym-energy. Dr. Sai is calm, precise and still. Copy the system (pillar → clips, named frameworks, generosity, proof), not the volume of voice.

PART 3 — The Dr. Sai Content Engine (unified)

3.1 Master contrarian statement (say it everywhere)

> EN: I believe ambitious Burmese people who want a successful life should break the frames they inherited and rebuild from within, NOT just collect more skills, courses and hustle.
>
> MM: ဘဝမှာ အောင်မြင်ချင်တဲ့ မြန်မာလူငယ်တွေ၊ လုပ်ငန်းရှင်တွေ လိုအပ်တာ သင်တန်း နောက်တစ်ခု မဟုတ်ဘူး။ အမွေရလာတဲ့ ဘောင်ကို ချိုးပြီး အတွင်းကနေ ပြန်ဆောက်ဖို့ပဲ။

3.2 Dr. Sai's contextual credibility bank (real, from his own posts)

- Built 13 businesses; led 300+ employees
- Hysan Education ("Express Yourself"); transforming the lives of thousands of students
- The scar: family crisis at age 9 (father went to Hpakant and came back addicted), father died when he was 14, he tutored as a teenager to support the family
- Own frameworks: Iceberg of Will (4 layers), Perception Ocean, "အရင်...ပြီးမှ" parenting rules
- Doctorate `[FILL: field]` · Countries operating in `[FILL]` · Own children `[FILL: ages / a moment]`

Rule: match the proof to the pillar. Parenting → the scar plus Hysan students. CEO → 300+ staff. Scaling → 13 businesses plus Hysan. Personal development → the Iceberg story.

3.3 Named-framework library (one signature mechanism per pillar)

Pillar	Signature framework	Status
Parenting	The Iceberg Child (marks above water; resilience, voice and will below) + "အရင်...ပြီးမှ" 5 Rules	Builds on proven posts
Personal Development	The Iceberg of Will (skill → momentum → resilience → will) + Anatta Reset	Proven, top post
CEO Skills	The CEO's 3 Jobs (direction · people · refusal) + Win Before the Fight (Sun Tzu)	New: name it and repeat it
Business Scaling	Perception Ocean (beyond Red/Blue) + WHAT → WHO	Proven, top post

3.4 Content diet (75/20/5) and innovation mix (70/20/10)

- 75% steak: frameworks, case breakdowns, "here's how I solved ___"
- 20% sides: broader topics (habits, money mindset, AI and the future of work, Burmese culture and change)
- 5% dessert: behind the scenes, family moments, meditation practice, reading list
- 70% proven: remake Iceberg, Perception Ocean and the parenting rules in new angles (Hormozi re-teaches his core frameworks constantly; so should you)
- 20% iterations: same framework with a new hook, setting or example
- 10% wild swings: new formats (whiteboard "frame drawing", a walk-and-talk at a pagoda or office, a father–child conversation, live Q&A)

3.5 Platform plan (Eye of Sauron)

- Primary (active innovation): Facebook. Reels, long-form video and long text posts. Most Burmese readers live here.
- Library: YouTube. Weekly pillar long-form (20–40 min); builds search value and depth.

- Orbit (maintenance): TikTok, Instagram, Telegram. Repurposed clips only.
- Owned: Telegram channel and email list. Every CTA leads here (Kallaway lesson: followers are rented).

3.6 Universal hook template: 4 C's + Hook-Retain-Reward

CALL-OUT     (who it's for)      → "ကလေးကို အမှတ်ကောင်းဖို့ ဖိအားပေးနေတဲ့ မိဘတွေ..."
CREDIBILITY  (contextual)        → "ကျောင်းသား ထောင်ချီနဲ့ အလုပ်လုပ်ခဲ့ပြီးမှ ကျွန်တော် သိလာတာ..."
COMPASS      (the roadmap)       → "ရေခဲတောင်ရဲ့ အလွှာ ၄ ခုနဲ့ ရှင်းပြမယ်။"
CORE LEARNING (inside 60 seconds) → the first real light-bulb insight, delivered fast

For shorts, compress it: call-out + credibility in line 1–2, core learning by second 20.

3.7 Short-form script skeleton (45–75 sec, Dr. Sai voice)

1. HOOK: familiar pain / hard truth / reversal (Burmese, ≤ 2 lines)
2. CREDIBILITY: one contextual line (specific, earned)
3. TURN: "ပြဿနာက ___ မဟုတ်ဘူး။ ___ ပဲ။"
4. ONE METAPHOR: physical (iceberg, ocean, seed, bridge...)
5. ACTION: one thing to do tonight (Hormozi: lower the effort)
6. CTA: comment keyword → Telegram/lead magnet (aligned to the same pain)
7. TATTOO LINE: one sentence to close

3.8 Long-form (pillar) skeleton (20–40 min)

00:00  4C opening (call-out, credibility, compass, first insight ≤ 60s)
02:00  The common belief, and why it fails (the frame)
06:00  The named framework, part by part, each with a story or case
20:00  The scar: Dr. Sai's own lived story that earned the lesson
28:00  The application: a step-by-step "do this this week"
34:00  Objections / Q&A ("ဒါဆို ___ ဆိုရင်ကော?")
38:00  Lead magnet CTA + tattoo-line close

Mark 5+ golden moments during recording, i.e. self-contained insights that need no context. These become the shorts.

PART 4 — The 4 Pillars: full content kits

① PARENTING

Contrarian belief (formula):

> I believe Burmese parents who want successful children should build the child's inner will and voice, NOT just push grades and obedience.
> သားသမီး အောင်မြင်စေချင်တဲ့ မိဘတွေ တည်ဆောက်ပေးရမှာ အမှတ်နဲ့ နာခံမှု မဟုတ်ဘူး။ ဆန္ဒအင်အားနဲ့ ကိုယ်ပိုင်အသံ။

Contextual credibility: thousands of Hysan students (sees what kids lack) · grew up as a teenager carrying a family · own parenting `[FILL]` Lead magnet: "အရင်...ပြီးမှ" 5-Rule Parent Card (one page, fridge-ready)

🎬 Long-form pillar

Title: ကလေးရဲ့ ရေခဲတောင် — အမှတ်က မပြနိုင်တဲ့ ၉၀ ရာခိုင်နှုန်း (The Iceberg Child: the 90% that grades can't show) Thumbnail text: အမှတ် ≠ အနာဂတ် (one gold word: အနာဂတ်)

Time	Section
0:00	4C opening: "ကလေးကို အမှတ်ကောင်းဖို့ ဖိအားပေးနေတဲ့ မိဘတွေ..." + Hysan credibility + "အလွာ ၄ ခုနဲ့ ရှင်းပြမယ်"
2:00	The frame: Burmese obedience and exam culture, and why it breaks in the AI era (skills are commoditized; voice and resilience aren't)
6:00	Layer 1, Marks/Skill: the ticket in, not the destination
10:00	Layer 2, Habits/Momentum: small daily wins build "luck"
14:00	Layer 3, Resilience: falling down and getting back up; how to let kids fail safely
18:00	Layer 4, Will & Voice: a child who knows why; Hysan's "Express Yourself"
22:00	The scar: age 9 to 14. What hardship built in me, and what it cost. Don't manufacture hardship; give responsibility.
30:00	The 5 "အရင်...ပြီးမှ" rules, one real scene each `[FILL: own family example]`
36:00	Q&A: phones, tuition pressure, comparing kids with relatives' kids
39:00	CTA: Parent Card · tattoo line

PART 5 — Weekly production system (Hormozi pillar model × PDF waterfall)

4-week rotation: Week 1 Parenting → Week 2 Personal Development → Week 3 CEO Skills → Week 4 Business Scaling → repeat.

One recording day a week (about 3 hours):

1. Record 1 long-form pillar (20–40 min) using the skeleton in 3.8
2. Record the 5 shorts separately, native and vertical (higher quality than clips)
3. Note timestamps of golden moments during the long recording; the editor cuts 3–5 extra clips

Weekly output from one day (waterfall):

Asset	Qty	Platform
Long-form pillar	1	YouTube + Facebook video
Native shorts	5	Facebook Reels (primary) → TikTok/IG
Clipped golden moments	3–5	Facebook Reels / TikTok
Long text post (Dr. Sai voice)	2–3	Facebook
Carousel (one gold, dark design)	1	Facebook / IG
Telegram / email note	1	Owned list

Daily posting rhythm (primary platform: Facebook):

Mon	Tue	Wed	Thu	Fri	Sat	Sun
Short #1	Long text post	Short #2 + long-form premiere	Short #3	Carousel	Short #4	Short #5 (personal / wild swing)

Phases (Expand → Contract):

- Weeks 1–8, Expand: full volume above. Collect data on which pillar, hook and format wins.
- Week 9+, Contract: keep the top 2 pillars and top format; cut volume about 30%; put that time into production quality (lighting, b-roll, design).

Scoreboard (biweekly): followers gained · keyword comments → Telegram/email joins · inquiries/sales. Calculate the outlier score (views ÷ your 3-month average) to find what to remake.

PART 6 — Pre-publish checklist

☐ Does it break a frame? (brand essence)

☐ Is the contrarian belief clear, contrarian and not controversial?

☐ 4C opening: call-out, credibility, compass, first insight within 60s?

☐ Is the credibility contextual (specific to this topic) and real (no invented proof)?

☐ One named framework, one physical metaphor, one tattoo line?

☐ CTA aligned to the same pain as the video?

☐ Voice: no "ဖင်း/ငါ", stacked short lines, calm, no hype?

> One-line summary of all three sources: Teach everything you know, from what you've truly lived, to the one person you want, and let trust do the selling.
